—For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living in Prince William county, on the night of the 24th inst. a BRIGHT MULATTO GIRL, nearly white, about 15 or 16 years of age. She is of a very low stature, and very fat; her eyes small and of a hazle color; her hair brown and long; her skin, from great attention, would pass for that of a white person, particularly her hands, which she has preserved from roughness with great care. She carried away many valuable articles, besides her own clothing, (which was costly) such as fine linen shifts, marked with her mistress' name, a costly ring of pearl, several pair of new stockings, muslin habits, &c. Among her own wardrobe was a scarlet stuff dress, which she frequently appeared in when she visited in the neighborhood, with a new straw bonnet, dressed with pink satin ribband, and a tortoise shell comb in her hair.

I will give the above reward of $100 for apprehending this girl, and securing her in any gaol so that I get her again.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 25th of March last, a very likely Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Noland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round faced, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave;—small feet, a tolerable ready speech, and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high from appearance. She had on when she went away a dress of coating cloth, made in a cut and jacket, with skirts of a brown snuff color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier or Loudoun counties; if taken in any other county or state, and secured in any jail, so that I obtain information and get her, I will give one hundred dollars, and all reasonable charges paid in either case, if brought home. TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1818.

EULOGIUM ON WASHINGTON.

Written and spoken by Mr. Hutton at the Alexandria Theatre.

Come, Epic muse, and breathe poetic fire,
While with adventurous hand I touch the lyre, [ful nine,
Leave those deep arbors where the tune-
In listless peace & peaceful ease recline;
No longer rest unmindful of your name,
And give true merit to the voice of fame!
Let all your hills the welcome strain prolong, [song,
And endless echoes waft the pleasing
Till from Parnassian heights the strain be hurl'd, [sing world!
And shouts of triumph shake the wond'r-
Begin the music, usher in the morn,
On which th' illustrious Washington was born!
He who possessed each requisite to guide
Our warlike hosts amid th' empurpled tide, [power,
To lead our councils showed an equal
To that which saved us in the trying hour!
Let tuneful Homer, in heroic verse,
Historic truths, with parable, rehearse;
Let Priam's Hector stand the shield of Troy,
And stern Pelides Ilion's shield destroy,
Let Solon's praise from grateful Athens rise,
And Sparta boast Lycurgus was her son;
Bootis glory in her warrior's fame,
And virtue own Epaminonda's name;
Let conquering Philip 'gainst all Greece conspire, [sire;
And the mad son outstrip th' ambitious
Let Cincinnatus leave his humble plough,
Till hated faction dastardly shall bow;
Let conquest follow at a Cesar's heels,
And Roman greatness grace his chariot wheels; [raise,
Let modern Europe songs of triumph
And teeming music thunder round her lays; [cease,
Columbia has a greater theme for boast,
Than Trojan numbers or the Grecian hosts; [cease,
Her songs of praise let modern Europe
And her chiefs slumber in oblivious peace;
A nobler chief, Columbia's favorite son,
The good, the great, the Godlike Washington,
Shall o'er their history, their fable soar,
His laurels greener, for he merits more!
Ages to come his actions shall admire,
And strive to emulate till time expire!

Corruption saw, but trembled to assail,
Convinced that gold, nor grandeur, could prevail [fired,
Against the zeal which all his bosom
And love of real glory that inspired!
The various virtues various chieftians knew, [drew;
To form this chieftain in conjunction
Wrote in his life, with an immortal pen,
The first of heroes and the best of men!

But hark! my ears receive the dying knell, [farewell!
Come mournful lyre, and boasting muse,
Come, and in melancholy notes, complain,
While weeps Columbia at the sadd'ning strain! [to shore,
List to the knell, that sounds from shore
The first of men and heroes is no more!
Well may their tears a grateful nation shed,
And mingle sorrows o'er the mighty dead;
Who now shall save us in the trying hour,
And lead our sons to combat tyrant pow'r? [forego,
But cease, my muse, the doleful strain
Let private sorrow mourn a public woe;
Some other chieftain yet shall spring to light,
To lead our councils and direct the fight;
Though vain the hope that ages as they run,
May give the world another Washington!

An incident that happened last evening, showing the power of musical sounds is worth relating. In sigh not for love, as Mr. Philips was just in the midst of a fine passage, a man in the pit, whose whole attention had followed the singer, became at last so engrossed, that he involuntarily uttered a loud note in perfect unison, and immediately was seized with an hysteric fit, which deprived him of his senses, and he was carried out of the house. [N. York paper.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1818.

The editor of the Philadelphia "Democratic Press" (without assigning reasons or giving any authority) says that our relations with Great Britain and Spain are more unfavorable than is believed or understood from public appearances. He insinuates that our negociations with Spain were broken off by the British;—and that if Amelia and East Florida should not be occupied by American troops, the British forces have instructions to take possession.

[Balt. Fed Gaz.

By the ship India, captain Tompkins, from Calcutta, we learn that about the first of August there was a very destructive fire in Calcutta, which originated in a cotton screw house. The loss was estimated at from 10 to 12 lacks of rupees; chiefly the property of the India Company. [N. Y. Com. Adver.

AMELIA ISLAND TAKEN.

A gentleman of undoubted veracity, well known to the editors of the Republican, writes his brother in this place, under date of Jefferson, Camden county, December 23, 1817.

"This day, at twelve o'clock, Amelia Island was taken possession of by the United States' troops; and I am in hopes that the Floridas will, within a short time, be under the same flag."

Boston, Dec. 29,

FROM BUENOS AYRES.

Captain Smith, arrived at Providence from Buenos Ayres, informs that the director Pueyredon had retired from the government, and another person was elected president for six months in his stead; that prizes to the Patriot privateers were arriving there daily—several of them of great value. The Portuguese forces were still besieged in Monte Video by general Artegas, the Patriot commander, and were said to be much distressed for provisions.

New-York, Jan. 1.

ACCIDENT.

We learn from Dr. Thompson, who arrived in town yesterday morning from Elizabethtown, that the post coach, from New-York, with the honorable Samuel W. Dana and a Mr. Lyon, passengers, drove up last evening to the public house in Elizabethtown, where it is accustomed to stop, and the driver, after throwing the reins round the post of the carriage, jumped off his seat. At that instant the horses took a start, and off they went at full speed. Mr. Dana made his escape through the post coach door window, and in the fall broke his leg a little above the ancle in a most shocking manner. The broken bones forced their way entirely through the skin. Mr. Lyon, one of the proprietors of the post coach, who remained in the carriage, succeeded in climbing through one of the windows on to the top of it, descended down into the driver's seat, seized the reins, and stopped the horses. Dr. Thompson assisted in setting Mr. Dana's leg, and this morning two letters were received, one by Dr. Post, the other by Dr. Osborn, calling them to his assistance.

* This is another instance to show the dangerous consequences of leaving a carriage when at full speed.

Easton, (Penn.) Dec. 25.

—100—YEARS!—

A scene novel, interesting and pathetic, occurred a few days since at the court house in Easton. When, among the several debtors who had been imprisoned in the county of Northampton, and who were about to take the benefit of the insolvent act of Pennsylvania, appeared before the court JACOB TITUS, a man aged "99 years;" his tall, furrowed and worn out majesty of form, tottering, reclining over an oaken staff, his only support, in the 100th year of his age; relinquishing by oath his little all to a merciless creditor, of another age and another generation, to free the remnant of a century from the captivity of a gaol!!!

Trembling with years, he arose from his seat and repeated the oath of resignation. The court liberated him: when he was told "that he might go where he pleased," tears burst in his eyes, an involuntary sob audibly trembled on his withered lips, his heart seemed surcharged with grief, borne down with the weight of years. The crowd gathered around—sympathy prompted many to

"Pity the sorrows [of this] poor old man,
Whose days are dwindl'd to the shortest span."

Extraordinary cure of Hydrophobia.

Concord, N. H. Dec. 23.

It having been noticed in the papers that mad dogs have appeared of late in many places, perhaps the following case, which we have from the mouth of Obediah Mooney, esq. of Canterbury, may be interesting to the public:

On the 13th of February, 1816, Solomon Mooney, aged 9 years, son of O. Mooney, was attacked by a furious dog, when returning from school—his face lacerated and torn, and his fingers bitten by the poisonous teeth of the animal.—The anxiety of Mr. M. having ascertained that the dog was mad, can be better felt than described; he consulted a number of physicians, but could obtain no encouragement of relief, until the eleventh day, when the child becoming evidently influenced by the disorder—his eyes wild and glaring, and his intellect deranged—Dr. Sanborn, of Sanbornton, was sent for, who immediately ordered a decoction of lobelia, by some called Indian tobacco, and by others stull cap—when a quantity was given to the child, on whom it soon had a powerful effect; and, on repeating the dose, and bathing the wound frequently, the child was perfectly recovered. A small quantity of this decoction will make a well person vomit.

The poison had so far influenced the system of the child, that at the first time it was able to swallow about three gills before it operated: at subsequent trials the child took less, as he grew better. It is important that regard be had to the quantity given, according to the situation of the patient. The herb used is very common in our fields, and is known by the effect it has on horses, making them discharge saliva from the mouth:—it is by many persons used as an emetic.

N. B. A dog belonging to Mr. M. bitten at the same time by the same dog, was shut up, and died with the hydrophobia.

BLACK BEARD THE PIRATE.

Experience has pretty well cured the absurd notion so prevalent in this country a few years past, of the inexpedience of an American navy. Our navy is disburdened at last from the load of obloquy that, for party purposes had been cast upon it; and it is now held in high respect by even those who had reproached it in the loudest terms. The old accusation, of being zealously in favor of a naval establishment, will, according to present appearances, never again be brought up against the federalists. Hundreds and thousands of times it was rung over the country as one of the crying sins of federalism, and a great many thousand of proselytes did it add to the fold of democracy.

It was one of the whims of the new school of politics, that freedom of the seas might be enjoyed without any naval armament at all; that if the U. States respected the rights of other nations, they in return would respect their rights; and that commerce might be carried on, alike unprotected and unmolested.

Now supposing (a thing hardly possible however) that it were agreed upon, in a general convention of the maritime powers, that the sea should in all respects be alike free to all, and that agreement were kept in good faith; still this country would be under the necessity of employing a considerable naval force to protect its coasts and its commerce against pirates. The recent instances of the Barbarians and the Algerines, and the present swarms of freebooters, are sufficient proofs in point. What would it avail us to be in peace with the whole civilized world? If we had no naval power at all, our whole coasts would swarm with pirates.

At times when the naval forces of Europe were small and weak, and America had none at all; the seas, and especially the American seas, swarmed with pirates, who not only plundered the vessels but murdered the crews. In the former part of the seventeenth century, the terrible gang of pirates, called Buccaniers, began to infest the seas; attacking and capturing trading ships of all nations, and even attacking and plundering some of the Spanish settlements on the American continent—murdering the men, ravishing the women, and carrying them into captivity. These piracies they carried on about fifty years, to the extreme annoyance of the commercial nations of Europe, as well as of the American colonies.

Again, in the former part of the eighteenth or last century, another gang of pirates, having their head quarters in the Bahamas, spread dismay and terror far and near. The leader of the gang was John Teach, known by the name of Black Beard. Of that desperado the following account is given in Mr. M'Kinnen's Tour in the West Indies.

"This extraordinary man," says Mr. M'Kinnen, had united in his fortunes a desperate and formidable gang of pirates, styling himself their commodore, and assuming the authority of a legitimate chief. Under a wild fig tree, the trunk of which still remains, and was shown to me in the eastern part of the town, he used to sit in council among his banditti, concerting or promulgating his plans, and exercising the authority of a magistrate. His piracies were often carried on near the English settlements on the coasts of North America, where he met with extraordinary success. Perhaps in the history of human depravity, it would be difficult to select actions more brutal and extravagant than Black Beard's biographer has recorded of him. As the narrative to which I allude is generally credited, and bears strong internal evidence of truth, it may be amusing to mention a few particulars of a man who was for some time considered as sovereign of this island."

"In person, as well as disposition, this desperado, who was a native of England, seems to have been qualified for the chief of a gang of thieves. The effect of his beard, which gave a natural ferocity to his countenance, he was always solicitous to heighten, by letting it grow to an enormous length, and twisting it about in small tails like a Ramillies wig; whence he derived the name of Black Beard. His portait in time of action is described as that of a complete fury; with three braces of pistols in holsters slung over his shoulders like bandeliers, and lighted matches under his hat, sticking out over each of his ears. All authority as well as admiration amongst the pirates was conferred on those who, committing every outrage on humanity, displayed the greatest audacity and extravagance."

Mr. M'Kinnen relates that, among other diabolical extravagancies of Black Beard, "he once collected a quantity of sulphur and combustible materials between the decks of his vessel; when, kindling a flame, and shutting down the hatches upon his crew, he involved himself with them literally in fire and brimstone. With oaths and frantic gestures, he then acted the part of the devil, as little affected by the smoke as if he had been born in the infernal regions; till his companions, nearly suffocated, and fainting, compelled him to release them."

"He was afterwards conquered, rather than apprehended, by an expedition fitted out for the purpose, after a most desperate resistance, in which he killed almost all the crews of the vessels sent against him; and he died, with most of his gang, in the battle."

THE MODERN LAY PREACHER.

No. IX.

"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the Sun:—a time to weep and a time to laugh; a time to mourn and a time to dance."

At this merry season of the year, when the hearts of the young and the old, the grave and the gay, are overflowing with bounty, it will perhaps be considered uncharitable in the Preacher to introduce any topic which may disturb or diminish the general gladness. Far be such a thought from him.—Christmas is most emphatically deemed a day of gifts; it is the anniversary of the Greatest Gifts ever given to man; and well then may the children of men rejoice, and in gratitude to their Great Father, scatter presents to their "little ones."

So likewise is this day (the New-Year) a fit occasion for joy and thanksgiving; but will these emotions be abated by mingling with them a few serious glances at the departed year?—Surely not;—they will be heightened in proportion as the retrospect is consolatory to our minds.

It must be a source of great joy to those who can look back upon the last year, without heaving a sigh or feeling a blush. To enumerate the instances of error to which the wisest and best of human creatures are liable, would be a useless and painful task. We shall invite to a few, that most abound in our metropolis: and

First. At the close of the year, can you truly declare that you have kept "holy" the Lord's Day?—Alas, I greatly fear that but a small proportion of our population can conscientiously answer in the affirmative.—Heads of families, have you set this "decent example," to say the least of it, before your immortal offspring? Youth of both sexes, have you dissipated the sacred day in the frivolities of dress or the haunts of intemperance? If thou hast, oh my sons and daughters, "walk not thou in the way with "them; refrain thy foot from their "path."

Second.—Love to our neighbor implies most of the social and moral duties. That we have not done a fellow creature any harm is poor praise—it is the amount of positive good rendered to society that constitutes the most pleasing reflection on a New Year's day. Have you succoured the poor, particularly of your "own household,"—visited the sick, instructed the ignorant, reformed the profligate and profane, then indeed you have performed acts which God and your own consciences will approve.

There are some petty crimes which infest every class of Society, which it may not be amiss to notice while we are on the subject, and we shall notice them in the impressive language of Solomon, viz.

Slander—"A forward man soweth strife; and a whisperer separateth chief friends."

Envy—"Wrath is cruel and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand against Envy."

Usury—"Divers weights are an abomination to the lord: and a false balance is not good."

Drunkenness—"Who hath wo?—who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine and go to seek mixed wine."

Pride—"A high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sin."

Covetousness—"He that is greedy to gain troubleth his own house."

Hatred—"Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox, and hatred therewith."

Anger—"He that is slow to wrath is of great understanding; but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly."

Strife—"It is an honor for man to cease from strife, but every fool will be meddling."

To this brief notice of some prevailing sins of life, the preacher will merely subjoin a note on each.

First. Slander is a wicked offence, for

"Good name in man or woman is the immediate jewel of the soul.

Second. Envy springs from the pit of Hell, and is at variance with all the finest charities of our nature.

Third. Usury, the shameful and fashionable vice of our day, is opposed to the human and divine law.

Fourth. Drunkenness is beastly; and strips man of that spark of divinity which renders him superior to the brute creation.

Fifth. Covetousness is the mother of many other sins—In the heart of its victim it chills the milk of human kindness, and instead of rendering men social beings, converts them into vultures.

Sixth. Hatred is a passion hideous and unrelenting, and frequently leads its votary to deeds of blood.

Seventh. In the moments of Anger, how often do we commit acts which are a weight on our consciences for the remainder of our lives?

Eighth. In the paths of humility and discretion, all is "pleasantness and peace."

That most of us have more or less erred in some one of the above cases during the past year, is most deplorably true. "There is a time to keep silence and a time to speak."—If your Preacher keep silence, your consciences will speak with a "still small voice," that must be heard. He will therefore close, in the benignant words of the Saviour, on an occasion when an unfortunate female was accused before him, by saying, "Go and sin no more."

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Farmers, save your fodder; it will be wanted another year! An aged man in a neighboring town gives you this important advice from motives of mere benevolence. But I am persuaded in my own mind from what I have read, from what I have heard, and from what I have experienced, that every thirty-ninth winter is uncommonly severe; and according to my calculation the next winter will be a very hard one, and all the fodder which will be left next spring will be wanted before the next spring after.

I wish to have it known that I claim no supernatural knowledge; nor am I an Almanack maker, and I may be mistaken in my reckoning, for I well know that "to err is human;" but I am so sure that I am correct, that I deem it my duty thus publicly to entreat all those concerned, to use the greatest frugality in fodder of all kinds; at all events my advice can do no harm, and if followed, it will be of immense benefit.

AN OLD MAN.

In Council,

JANUARY 5, 1818.

Mr. T. Vowell, from the committee to whom was referred the account of Rob't Brockett, made a report, which was read and laid on the table.

Thomas Barton was appointed by council to keep the town clock in order for one year, at a salary of sixty dollars.

Ordered, That the auditor do issue a warrant in favor of Dr. Thomas Semmes, for $150, for his services as superintendent of quarantine for the present year.

The account of Semmes & Washington, for medicine and attendance on the poor, amounting to $44 75, was ordered to be paid.

On balloting for Inspectors of the Poor, under the act entitled "an act to provide for the poor and out-door pensioners, by creating a House of Industry, and concentrating the charities of benevolent institutions and private individuals, the following gentlemen were duly elected, viz. Charles Page, John Harper, Andrew Fleming, Bernard Bryan, Jacob Hoffman, Isaac Robbins, James Lawrason, and Jonathan Janney.

Messrs. J. C. Vowell and Anderson were appointed a committee to distribute the donation of the late Owen F. Magrath.

Ordered, That the auditor do issue a warrant in favor of John W. Beetle, for $300 agreeable to a certificate from the superintendent of Police, under date the 8th November, 1817, on account of paving on Washington-street, in the fourth ward.

The "act to amend an act entitled an act for the regulation of the market, &c." was read a second and third time, and passed.

Education.

T. I RENNEY, late from Europe,

WILL open an Academy at Dumfries the 1st Monday of January, where he will teach the Greek, Latin, and English languages, scientifically and grammatically, Geography, the use of Maps and Globes, History, antient and modern, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Algebra, Euclid's Elements, and other branches of Mathematics. The scanning of the above languages will be particularly attended to. His knowledge of the academic and collegiate course will, he hopes, insure to him the patronage and support of a liberal and discerning public. He will watch with solicitous care over the conduct of his pupils—that whilst he instils into their infant minds the priciples of human science, they may not forget those of a far greater importance—their respective duties to God and man—which will cause them to rank high in society—its ornament—its support. Parents and guardians will, he presumes, enter their names immediately. For further particulars apply to Dr. J. Spence, capt. M'Crea, Mr. D. Boyle.

N. B. Rhetoric and Logic will constitute a part of the year's study. A few boarders can be attended to.

January 5 3t

To the Flour and Rice Millers OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN,—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the sums I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. There has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law, that each infringer is liable to pay treble my actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of my property during the infringement. I have expended the greatest part of a long, arduous, and indefatigable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding saved by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 22, 1813, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum becoming due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding becomes due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the users; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will alone be valid, and save the expense of suit and treble damages to the defendants. JOHN LOVE.

Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaister of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and those, now untilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed: the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

Public Sale.

ON the 10th January next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public auction, on the premises, a certain tract or parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Loudoun, near the Gum Spring, and at the intersection of the Little River Turnpike and Centreville Road, near the 26 mile stone, containing 752 acres. And, on the 5th January next, at Mr. Kankey's tavern, in the town of Dumfries, a parcel of LAND, situate in the county of Stafford, within 8 miles of Dumfries, near Chappawamsic meeting house, and adjoining the lands of Major Tolson and others, containing about 250 acres.

Those lands are two third parts of the lands formerly belonging to Robt. Lyle, sen. deceased, in those counties, and divided by commissioners appointed under the authority of court.

It is presumed and wished that all who are inclined to become purchasers, will examine the lands; and, therefore, it becomes unnecessary to be more particular. They will be divided into such portions as may be desired; and the terms of payment will be one third part in hand, and the remainder by equal instalments in one and two years, secured by bond, and bearing interest from the day of sale, with approved security.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slime and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums,

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in
Consumptions	the stomach and
Lowness of spirits	back
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of b'ood	Melancholy
Hysteric'l affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses	Pains in the limbs
and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
